

VETERANS RETURN FROM SPRINGFIELD

Confederates Delighted at Welcome Extended by Northerners.

MEETING OF COUNCIL

Petersburg People to See First League Game at Home To-Day.

Times-Dispatch Bureau.
109 North Sycamore Street.
Petersburg, Va., July 7.
A. P. Hill Camp, Confederate Veterans, returned home this evening from Springfield, Mass., where they have been the guests of E. K. Wilcox Post, G. A. R. They marched in great form from the depot to their camp hall, being cheered by all as they passed by. The veterans are loud in their praise of the reception given them in Springfield, declaring that even the women and children were equally enthusiastic as the G. A. R. veterans in their cordiality and greetings. The trip has proven to them that not a vestige of ill feeling remains in the hearts of the Springfield G. A. R. veterans.

Meeting of Council.
The regular monthly meeting of the Common Council was held last evening, but as all of the business incident to the close of the fiscal year, June 30, had been attended to in June and appropriations made to settle all accounts there was little to be done at this meeting.

The reports of the Treasurer and Auditor were received. The former showed that the city's cash receipts in June were $14,637, and the latter showed that the expenditures for the month were $35,515. These expenditures included all obligations for the months of May and June. The report of Police Justice Plummer showed collections of $175 on account of fines for violations of city ordinances.

The Council directed the Collector of City Taxes to turn over to the Collector of Delinquent Taxes all delinquent tax accounts for the year 1909. A resolution was introduced and referred, providing for the use of the old artillery gun house on West Tabb Street by the Petersburg Grays as an armory, as the company has to give up the present armory in the Library Building in September. The Library Building has been purchased by the Virginia Railway and Power Company, to be used for its own purposes.

The ordinance prescribing the manner in which the prisoners in the City Jail are required to work was called up and referred to the Police Committee with instructions to so amend it as to relieve the police of the duties imposed by the present ordinance. The prison force is known as the "chain gang," and an officer of police has been required to take charge of it daily.

The Council at its last meeting made an appropriation for the establishment of a police electric patrol and telephone system. The contract for the installation of this system was read to the Council last evening and was referred to the Police and Fire Commissioners with the view of embodying in the contract a fire alarm system, and $250 was allowed for the employment of an expert electrician to superintend the work.

Crawford had been living in Washington for some time, and was to have been married yesterday to a young woman in New York. The body was brought to Petersburg this morning in charge of the young woman who was to have been Crawford's wife, and the burial will be tomorrow afternoon.

Gain Day at Hospital.
Yesterday was a day of interest to the patients of the Central State Hospital, several hundred of whom were assembled on the athletic field to witness field sports in which a number of male patients participated. These sports embraced standing and running high jumps, standing and running broad jumps and races of various kinds. The contests were spirited and interesting, and were not only enjoyed by the hundreds of patients who witnessed them, but by many white visitors from Petersburg.

HIT BY STREET CAR

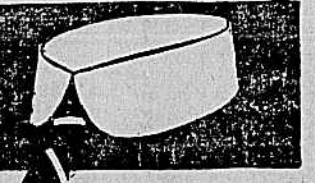

Roy Patterson Cut in Forehead and Sent to Hospital.
Struck by a Virginia Railway and Power Company car as he was crossing the tracks on Eighteenth near Venable Street, yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock, Roy Patterson, fourteen-years old, of 1464 North Twenty-second Street, was seriously cut on the forehead.
The ambulance took the injured boy to the Virginia Hospital, where he received medical attention. While stunned and shaken up, young Patterson is not in a dangerous condition. It was said by physicians last night that he would probably leave the hospital in a day or two.

AROUND THE HOTELS

Judge Robert Aldrich, of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, of South Carolina, was a visitor to the city yesterday, spending a short time here as a guest of the Richmond. For many years Judge Aldrich has been a prominent figure in the political life of the Palmetto State, being one of the few living members of the famous "Hampton House," which, as the rival of the black-and-tan house of the Republican party, displaced the latter and began the re-instatement of the Democratic party.

Congressman Carter Glass was a guest of Murphy's yesterday.

The General Assembly was represented on Murphy's register last night by Representative Alden Bell, the oratorical member from Culpeper.

GOING ON STUMP FOR INSURGENT

Mr. Churchill produced a paper on which he had written a statement. Here it is:

"Our whole purpose in New Hampshire this summer is to make Mr. Bass Governor and to elect a Legislature to support him. We have done nothing else; we have meddled with nothing else. We know that Mr. Bass is uncompromising. He has been with the progressive movement since its start. He is incapable of making political deals. The people of the State trust him, and his nomination and election will be a clear-cut victory, a signal stage in the fight we began four years ago."

Senator Carter, on his return from Sagamore Hill on his way to New York, said that while his visit was not a political one, he had given the colonel considerable information about the situation in the West.

"I assured him," said Senator Carter, "that the alleged division in the West were greatly exaggerated and that many of us were trying to attain the same ends through different methods."

Senator Carter said that he had assured Colonel Roosevelt that the strength of the insurgent movement in the Northwest had been overestimated. The Senator was asked if there was any possibility of a breach between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt, and he replied:

"I can see no danger of it. Mr. Roosevelt will probably have more of a soothing influence than any other." In addition to the political talks the colonel also found time to talk about bunting in Africa. John Burroughs, the naturalist, who spent the night at Sagamore Hill, and T. J. Ader, who dropped in for luncheon, swapped stories of the jungle with him.

Kern Is Non-Committal.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—John W. Kern, Democratic candidate for Albert J. Beveridge's seat in the United States Senate, to-night said that he had received a private communication from New York that Colonel Roosevelt would speak in Indiana in Mr. Beveridge's behalf.
"Will you answer Colonel Roosevelt on the stump?" Mr. Kern was asked.
"I decline to make any comment," he answered.
"Were you surprised at the news?"
"I am surprised at nothing."

SUMMARY COURT WILL HEAR CASE

Smith and Stewart, all of the Third Artillery, and Captain Duval, of the Fifth Maryland, were guests of the Virginia Artillery officers at dinner to-day.

Sergeant S. E. Spain, of Petersburg, went home to-day on account of the serious illness of his mother.

Sergeant Theodore Serling, of Troop B, Fifteenth Cavalry, suffered a fracture of his left leg during the battle to-day. He was taken to Washington. The accident occurred by the wheel of a caisson of the Third Artillery.

Cannon Roar and Thunder.

Cannon roared and thundered and small arms cracked all day over the hills surrounding Gettysburg. The attacking force of Blues and the defenders, known as the Reds, battled for the mastery of the situation, using the best knowledge and thought of the officers in the modern art of warfare. The victory was apparently with the Reds. General Witherspoon said to-night that the Blues failed to gain their point. Only regulars were used, the militia being saved for the big sham battle of to-morrow.

The Reds, composed of the Twenty-Ninth Infantry, one troop of the Fifteenth Cavalry, one battalion of the Third Artillery, one company of engineers and half an ambulance corps, received notice that a regiment of infantry and two troops of cavalry, with some artillery, was marching toward Gettysburg with orders to destroy the bridge of the Western Maryland Railroad across Rock Creek.
The Reds were therefore ordered to take up a position near Wolf Hill and hold the Blue force east of the center of the battle until nightfall, when reinforcements were promised. Of course, at the moment of the crisis the call was sounded for the battle to cease. While the movements appeared slow, they were interesting and General Witherspoon said to-night that he was thoroughly satisfied with them.

Regimental Parade.

Stretched impressively across the parade ground, the First Virginia this afternoon held its regimental parade. To the music of its splendid band, the men marched and counter-marched before Colonel Perry and the regular army officers. Its appearance left nothing to be desired. All the Virginia Infantry again had regimental drill in the afternoon. In the morning it worked out problems in attack against an imaginary enemy several miles in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Dula and Mrs. J. Pinckney Williamson, of Danville, and Mrs. John J. Long, of Norfolk, are expected to motor into camp to-morrow.

FOUGHT OVER FIGHT

Two Negroes Resort to Violence Over Jack Johnson.

As an aftermath of the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight, James Storr, colored, of 20 West Jackson Street, is locked up at the Second Police Station, charged with felonious assault upon J. R. Neal, colored, of 2 West Jackson Street, following a row about the two fighters.

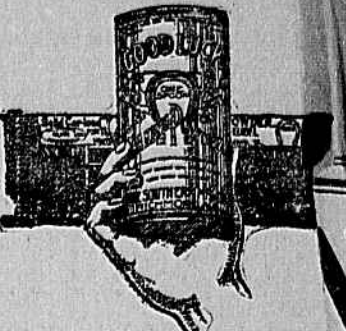

Storr inflicted several painful wounds upon the arm, body and face of Neal, with some sharp instrument. The quarrel started in Nelson's saloon at Duval and St. James Street, where an argument took place about Jeffries and Johnson.

Storr chased Neal from the saloon some distance to St. James and Jackson Streets, where the former dealt Neal several blows with a weapon. Storr escaped, but was arrested last night by Officer King. He will have a hearing this morning in the Police Court.
